

What is Staging?

Home Staging is the art of showcasing a home through strategic placement of furniture and accessories with universal appeal. Staging portrays an ideal lifestyle that is move-in ready regardless of price or location.

What Does It Cost to Stage a Home?

The average staging cost depends largely upon the amount of furniture and accessory items needed and may cost the consumer $3,000-$5,000. A high end stage will cost in the $10,000-$20,000 range. To use a staging professional on a consultant basis, the cost ranges from $150 - $500.

Why YOU Have an Advantage

Kathy Rain is an Accredited Staging Professional (ASP) with a unique gift of design. She will help you put the “best face” on your home. Kathy offers you a competitive edge in real estate and has experience in staging many homes on the coastside, for FREE. Using furniture & accessories that you own to stage your home, Kathy will save you thousands of dollars.

As a true leader in the Staging and Real Estate industry, Kathy has been trained to use techniques that really work!

Family Room
Before

After

Living Room
Before

After

Living Room
Before

After

Bedroom
Before

After

