SERVICES OFFERED

FAMILY AND MARITAL THERAPY

My approach to families and marriages in crisis draws from a theoretical approach called emotionally focused therapy. This approach involves working with the participants to develop connections with one another that are healthy, honest, and heart-felt.

SPECIALIZED TRAINING IN CHILD AND ADOLESCENT THERAPY

For 15 years I have helped children and youth struggling with behaviors, anxiety, depression, divorce, grief and other issues that disrupt their growth and development. In addressing these issues, I work with all the systems that impact their lives, from family to school, from church to activities. I also have substantial experience working with families in turmoil over custody issues.

EDUCATIONAL AND PSYCHOLOGICAL TESTING

For children, difficulties in mood and behavior are often related to difficulties in learning. Understanding a child's learning needs can provide direction for interventions at school and at home. My specialized training and experience has enabled me to help many children and youth who have been inexplicably "stuck". For adults, psychological testing is also useful in clarifying occupational potential, interpersonal difficulties, and issues related to disability.

INDIVIDUAL THERAPY

I approach individual issues in an individual way. I strive to help each person set realistic, achievable goals for growth and health. To accomplish these goals, I use a combination of cognitive-behavioral, interpersonal, and existential/spiritual approaches to help you grow toward health.

FLUENT IN SPANISH AND EXPERIENCED IN CROSS-CULTURAL ISSUES

Having grown up in a cross-cultural setting, I have native fluency in the Spanish language. I also did my research on cross-cultural issues in families. These experiences have provided me with both personal and professional knowledge of the distinctive issues that arise for people faced with the challenge of navigating life between two cultures.

Peace, Purpose, and Potential are all within reach. Together, we can make it happen!
