Affinity Consulting Launches Affinity University Live Online Training at 20% off for Month of October

Action-Packed One-Hour Courses Taught by Experts

ALPHARETTA, Ga., Sep 30, 2009 (BUSINESS WIRE) -- --Tips & Tricks to Take Away, Immediate Benefits

Legal technology training doesn't have to be long, tedious or expensive anymore -- Affinity University has arrived! Tomorrow, October 1st, Affinity Consulting Group (www.affinityconsulting.com) officially launches Affinity University (www.affinityuniversity.com), courses taught live over the Internet by legal technology experts. This program far outpaces any legal software training available today with its Tips & Tricks format and web-based delivery for maximum value and convenience. And during October 2009, each one-hour course will cost only $79, a 20% discount off the regular price of $99.

Affinity University educates professionals on a broad spectrum of technology used by law firms, from widely-used business software to specialized legal-specific programs. Courses are designed for lawyers and staff at small and mid-sized law firms.

Instructors include big names in the international law office technology field such as Steven J. Best, Esq., Cindy Emmerson, Debbie Foster, Barron Henley, Esq., Britt Lorish Knuttgen, and Paul Unger, Esq. Each has taught at major legal technology conferences, including LegalTech New York and ABA TECHSHOW, as well as countless regional and local venues. Their collective expertise is unmatched; each can successfully translate complex subject matter into engaging, practical sessions that can be absorbed and applied directly to the day's legal work. Each session concludes with dynamic, interactive Q&A so attendees can ask questions and get exactly what they came for.

Debbie Foster, President of InTouch Legal, spearheaded the idea for Affinity University. Foster says, "Affinity University is dramatically different than your average web-based training. These courses are live-taught, useful, fun and convenient. The Tips & Tricks format is the most effective way to teach people to use software correctly in a condensed one-hour format. All legal professionals can benefit from Affinity University and our experts are dedicated to delivering top quality with every course."

Affinity Course Offerings Include:

- Business Standards: Microsoft Office (Word, Excel, PowerPoint, Outlook), Adobe Acrobat, Internet Explorer
- Case/Matter/Practice Management: Amicus Attorney, PracticeMaster and Time Matters

- Time/Billing: PC Law, Amicus Accounting and Tabs3
- Document Management/Assembly: Worldox and HotDocs
- Voice Recognition: Dragon NaturallySpeaking
- Scanning: ScanSnap

Affinity University courses begin on October 1, 2009 and will continue throughout 2009 and into 2010. To view the full class schedule or to register, visit: <http://www.affinityuniversity.com/classes>. The 20% discount expires on October 31, 2009.
